DANIELSON

Peter Berube, 68, of Ballouville was buried Thursday afternoon in St. Joseph's cemetery, Danville, following funeral services. Relatives acted as bearers and Rev. Ignatius Kost officiated.

Mr. Berube was found dead in bed by his son George Berube Wednesday evening. It is believed that death came some time Tuesday, for that evening George Berube went to his father's house and seeing him in bed apparently asleep, made no attempt to disturb him. But when his father failed to make his usual daily visits to his home during Wednesday, the son went again to his father's home and found him as he had seen him the evening before. He realized then that something was wrong and upon going to the bedside found his father dead.

The father had lived alone and in retirement for a year or so. His death was a shock to his friends. He was a native of Canada and had lived in this town for a long time. L. E. Kennedy was funeral director.

A. W. Williams of the state police department, investigated an automobile accident that occurred Thursday evening at the corner of Water and Cottage streets.

The cars that figured in the mishap were those of Frank Ferrigno of Danielson and J. T. Wallace of Sterling. No one was injured and the machines were only slightly damaged.

The Bulletin correspondent was in error when he stated in this column the other day that the last half-holiday of the season. He was one week ahead of the game. A week from next Thursday is the last state-closing afternoon, or August 25, and on that afternoon the chamber of commerce and the Bohemian club will hold its joint field day and clam-bake. It is hoped that this correction will clear up the uncertainty as to when the closing is going to be held—the definite date of Aug. 25.

Added attraction at Ophium theatre Sunday night: mandolin and vocal solos by Charles M. King of Danielson.

Rev. and Mrs. Albert Jensen have returned from a visit at Bridgeport and Mr. Jensen will officiate at the service Sunday at St. Alban's Episcopal church. The Pentecostal church is to hold an afternoon service Sunday at 3:30 at the home of Percy Hammond, East Killings.

The Baptist, Congregational and Methodist churches will hold an evening service of worship Sunday at 7 o'clock at the Methodist church. Rev. J. W. Howie will preach.

Terese McEwen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McEwen, who was operated on at the Day Kimball hospital, Putnam, last week, is expected to return to her home today (Saturday).

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Chatter of Central Falls, R. I., are guests of relatives

PUTNAM

That there has been an increase in three years of 50 per cent. in the gross cost of maintaining the public school system of the town of Putnam is shown in the figures compiled this week by the school committee. While there is much political gossip in Putnam at present, and much discussion concerning who will hold office next year, there is also a small group of citizens among which the problem of the town's financial situation looms far more important, and of whom the school committee is a part. The public schools are a matter of concern. For the year ending July 14, 1921, the gross cost of the public schools was $54,113.52, a larger figure than ever before in the history of the town. This is an increase of $9,047.01 over 1918-1920, or slightly more than 18 per cent. For 1917-1918, the gross cost was $44,765.51, which in turn represents an increase of 14 per cent. over 1916-1917. In 1915-1916 the gross cost was only $39,572.97, which is 50 per cent. of the gross cost for the year just ended. The increase by years is shown in the following figures: 1920-1921, $54,113.52; 1919-1920, $44,765.51; 1918-1919, $44,765.51; 1917-1918, $44,765.51; 1916-1917, $39,572.97.

The largest advances are at the high school, chiefly because of increase in teachers' salaries and increase in the cost of fuel. The actual cost to the taxpayers is not as large as these figures indicate since they are gross, and do not include deductions for income from tuition or state grants.

Ward was received in Putnam Friday morning of the death Thursday at the soldiers' home at Noroton Heights of John Osgood, 78. Osgood, a resident of Putnam for many years, a resident of Putnam, and although for several months he has been in poor health, news of his death came as a surprise. He left Putnam to enter the soldiers' home about three months ago.

John H. Osgood was born January 24, 1843, in Abington, the son of Charles and Lucy Osgood. Following his early education in the town schools he went to Norwich University, Northfield, Vt., and was graduated from that institution in 1864. He at once entered the northern army and served as captain of a company of United States Cavalry Volunteers. In the 18th regiment he served in the fall and winter of 1864-1865. He also commanded a detachment in the Dutch Gap campaign. Following the Civil war he went west and prospected for gold. This was in the days when every man took his own gun in those regions, and Capt. Osgood was no exception. He was a member of the A. G. Warner post, G. A. R., until that organization disbanded. He was a member of the American club in this city.

Altheus Keegan, the field manager and utility player on the Nightingale baseball team still leads the batting list with an average of .300. Altheus Nelson, captain and catcher of the team, as the result of his hitting in the game Sunday with the T. J. Berley team of Bridgeport, has moved into second place, and leads the list of the regular players. Keegan has been in hot only 10 times, but has connected for 3 safes. Nelson has been at the plate 23 times, and has connected only 17 times, for an average of .257. Last season Nelson was the heavy slugger on the Manchester line, now downgraded, but this year his stick work was mediocre until the last few games. He made three hits Sunday. L'Huereux, who has been leading the regulars, has slipped into second place. Nelson and L'Huereux are the only regulars in the top 200.

Fancher has dropped down to 400, and now has a batting average of .150. He has hit the field. The following are the batting averages of the regulars who played this season in as follows:

Player ab. h. p. c.

Keegan 10 10 .300

Nelson 23 17 .257

L'Huereux 48 15 .212

The team average for Putnam is .215, with 419 times at bat and 92 hits. The batting average of opposing teams is .293, with 338 men at bat, and 65 hits.

The Nightingale-Morse baseball team will have as opponents here Sunday the New Britain Industrial League.

Farmers from all over Windham county will be in on the fair here to meet at 9 o'clock, Wednesday, August 17, at the orchard of Lewis A. Merrill, opposite Pomfret station. Agent Frank L. Davis of the farmers' association, said Friday that he intends to start promptly Wednesday morning.

Trolley service was delayed for an hour Thursday night because of the derailment of top 8 o'clock car in charge of Motorman Henry Mandeville and Conductor Stanley Regis. The car left the iron road in the Putnam foundry, clashing into the lawn at the Simond home. The repair crew made a quick trip to the spot, and out the car back on the rails. A piece of iron on the track is said to have caused the derailment.

The Putnam fire department was called out at 6:45 Thursday night for a blaze at the home of H. Rosoff, near the foundry. A bottle of fat on the kitchen stove caught fire, but the blaze was extinguished before the department arrived. There was no damage.

Clayton Harburt, Woodstock avenue, New York, was arrested at the fair here on the charge of larceny. He was taken to the North Grosvenordale, this week.

R. S. Danforth, station agent in Putnam, was operated on Friday morning at St. Vincent's hospital, Worcester, for appendicitis.

Morton Willis, Sunnyside, is spending two weeks at Newport, R. I.

Amesee Duhamel, of Putnam, was before Judge Mahlon H. Geisler in the Putnam city court Friday morning, charged with intoxication. He pleaded guilty. Duhamel told the court that he went to Worcester Wednesday, met some friends, and returned with a bottle of whiskey. When he got back to Putnam he met Peter Dumas, of Lantham street (not of Providence street) and asked him to drive him home in his automobile. Dumas agreed, but before going home they took a little trip to the outskirts of the city where Duhamel treated with the bottle he had brought from the Massachusetts city. Duhamel said he had not been drunk in five years and asked the court to be lenient. Judge Geisler imposed a fine of $10 without cost.

Peter Dumas, who was arrested at the same time as Duhamel, was also before the court, charged with intoxication. He was represented by Attorney John F. Carpenter who demurred to the complaint. The demurrer was overruled by Judge Geisler. Dumas refused to plead, and Judge Geisler found him guilty. A fine of $20 with costs was imposed. The judge requested the court to notify the commissioner of motor vehicles of the disposition of the case. It was stated ineffectively Friday morning that the man arrested was Peter Dumas of Providence street.

Joseph Dupont, Lantham street, was before the court charged with breach of the peace. It was alleged that he used the language while in an argument with Mrs. Leona Beaupre, a neighbor. Through Attorney Arthur S. Macdonald he pleaded not guilty. Edward Bennett was interpreted, as much of the testimony was in French. Mrs. Beaupre testified that Thursday morning at 6:30 she was in her door talking with Peter Dumas when Dupont, without any apparent reason, began calling her vile names. It was not the first time he had insulted her, she said. She declared that she had not talked back. The night before she had sent one of Dupont's children away from her flower bed. Mrs. Beaupre admitted that there had been trouble between the two families because of the children, though she denied ever having sworn at them. Mrs. Maud Jackson gave testimony that while she was not able to understand much French she did know a few swear words, and heard those spoken by Dupont in the argument between him and Mrs. Beaupre on Thursday morning. She lives in the same house, and was attracted from her work by loud talking. She went to the door, and saw Mrs. Beaupre and Dupont in argument.

The accused testified that he has nine children living with him, and four others married. He heard Mrs. Beaupre talking to Dumas, and she said that the Dupont family was "good for nothing." Words then passed between them, but he denied calling her indecent names. Mrs. Beaupre, he said, declared she would see him "in the jug or the cage" before the day was over.

Mrs. Dupont told a similar story. Arthur Bennett, her son, 14, was called to the stand, but admitted that he had heard only part of the argument.

Mrs. Dupont told a similar story. Arthur Bennett, her son, 14, was called to the stand, but admitted that he had heard only part of the argument.

The case was a neighborhood argument growing out of children, and similar to many others that have been heard by the court. It was the second time this week. He said that in such cases the party first to reach the police and get a warrant sworn out appears to be the innocent party, while the other is probably in blame. The trouble Thursday he characterized as having done "harm to anyone, no blows were struck, and it had not been crowded beyond a reasonable doubt that indecent language had been used."

Judge Geisler told Dupont that he was technically guilty, but that because of the circumstances he would not impose either fine or jail sentence. He said the matter was obviously a "family row." The case was placed on file indefinitely.

The Putnam boys, Harold Arnold, Elliott Dean, Chandler Morse, Gerald Marov, Charles Carpenter, Gilbert Woodis, Robert Bruce, Donald Child, Mathewson Turner, and Franklin Perry, arrived at Camp Hazen, Chester, Conn., about noon Wednesday, after a bon-
